DUBLIN, Dec. 5.

Political circumſpection, wiſdom, and virtuous reſolution, ought, in the preſent awful criſis, to direct our proceedings. Even his Majeſty from the throne, would ſeem to acknowledge public affairs to be in a moſt undeſirable ſtate; and war, with its attendant miſeries, dangers and expences, is now almoſt certain.

The ſpeech admits that our efforts have not been attended with wiſhed for ſucceſs; that the great armaments of certain powers demand our attention. It alſo mentions the militia in honourable terms; nor are publick ſpirit, ſteady order, and love of country left unpraiſed! Theſe are pleaſing words from the Prince; and we hope that both his own and Miniſters conduct will, in future, be governed by a ſteady regard to the general welfare. Had this always been the caſe, loyal abuſed ſubjects would not now have been witneſſes to thoſe accumulated evils which now preſs hard on their freedom, ſpirits, and properties.

WILLIAMSBURG, March 3.

Extract of a letter from an officer on board the Dragon, dated off Hampton, March 1, 1779.

I Have the ſatisfaction to inform you that our bay is quite clear of the pirates, and hath been ſo ever ſince we came down with the fleet, they ſometimes make their appearance at a diſtance. Yeſterday we convoyed eight veſſels from Baltimore, and about ten leagues from the capes we ſaw a brig and ſloop of the enemy's, but they were very cautious and would not come near us, and it was out of our power to get to them, as they were to windward of us. Soon after, we ſaw three large ſhips and a ſmall veſſel to leeward; the weather being hazy, we could not diſcover whether they were friends or enemies, but am apt to believe they were the latter. There has been within theſe fifteen days paſt, a great number of arrivals from France and the Weſt Indies, and at leaſt thirty ſail gone out, all of which we have the greateſt reaſon to believe got clear.

Extract of a letter from Martinique, January 29.

Meſſieurs Byron and Barrington are ſtill at St. Lucie, and pay for their imprudence by burying 12 or 15 ſoldiers every day. They are anxiouſly employed in ſeeking for places the leaſt unhealthy for fixing their hoſpitals. If this mortality continues, their army will not long be able to hold this tomb of Europeans. As to other matters, the two fleets obſerve and mutually confine one another. We wait for the ſquadron of M. the Count de Graſſe.

"The frigate Swift, cleared for London, and carrying diſpatches with an account of the taking of St. Lucie, has been taken by the King's frigate Boudeuſe, commanded by the Count de Grange. The diſpatches which were going in the Swift have fallen into our hands.

"The above intelligence may be depended on as authentic."

CHARLES-TOWN, March 24.

IT is pretended that ſeveral Continental Frigates, with 13 other Veſſels, ſailed from Nantaſket Road the 16th Inſtant. Some ſuppoſe they are gone upon a ſecret Expedition; but others believe they are ſent only to clear the Coaſts, between Delaware and Georgia, of the Enemy's Cruizers, who have been very numerous and troubleſome.

On the 9th Inſtant ſome of theſe Privateers drove a Schooner from New England on the Reef off S. Santee; on the 9th, a Ship from Boſton (the old Live Oak, built here in the Year 1749) Capt. Chapman, was driven aſhore near the ſame Place; on the 10th and 11th, two of them appeared in Sight of this Town, and chaſed a Brig in laſt Thurſday the 25th, two of them, a Schooner of 10 and a ſloop of 8 Guns, chaſed a Sloop back, Capt. Howland, coming out of Bull's Inlet, and about Midnight ſent in their two Boats, who boarded and carried her, after a brave Reſiſtance wherein the Enemy loſt a Lieutenant, a Boatſwain and a Carpenter killed, and 4 Men wounded, and Capt. Howland had one Man killed, himſelf and another badly wounded. There were 16 Men in the two Boats, and 13 on board the Sloop, but the latter had only 4 Swivels and 4 Muſkets (no Pikes or Cutlaſſes) and the Enemy were on board before they could give a ſecond Diſcharge. The vanquiſhed were treated with great Inhumanity; and after being ſtripped to the Buttons in their Sleeves, and the very Shoes, all the Priſoners, except Capt. Howland and two of his Crew, were put aſhore in the Boat, among them the wounded Man, who had a Swivel Gun Shot paſſed thro' his Neck: The Sloop had 25 Hogſheads of Tobacco on board. On Friday, a Privateer Snow, chaſed a Brig from Boſton aſhore near Winyah, and got her off, before the Militia could come to her Aſſiſtance. And on Friday and Saturday, a Sloop appeared before this Harbour, and ſiſhed both Afternoons on the Eaſt Bank.

This Morning a ſhip with a ſmall Sloop appeared and are going off again to the S.E.

According to Advices from Bermuda, the Galatea and Camilla, Britiſh Men of War, were there, and had burnt a Sloop on the Stocks—the Inhabitants were in a ſtarving Condition, the Britiſh Soldiers (who had no other Proviſion than 7 Herrings and an Allowance of Oatmeal per Day) having deſtroyed and deſtroying, all the live Stock of every Kind—In ſhort, both Inhabitants and Soldiery were in ſo alarming a Situation, that the Governor has permitted Salt to be exported to this Continent, upon Condition, that the Veſſels return with nothing but Proviſions, to the Weſt End, which, for that Purpoſe, is put into a Kind of neutral State, and he has condeſcended to write Paſſports, entreating that the Cruizers on both ſides may not moleſt the Veſſels ſo employed.

It is remarkable, that in the Account publiſhed in Georgia, by Authority, of the taking of Savannah, after the Number of Priſoners is particularly mentioned, it is added that "83 Rebels were found dead on the Common"—not a Syllable of any wounded! A Gentleman lately eſcaped from Georgia, gives for the Reaſon, that Sir James Baird's Light-Infantry, in Tenderneſs to the wounded, diſpatched them all with 8 or 10 Stabs of the Bayonet, except Col. Walton, who happened to fall into the Hands of a Gentleman that had not renounced Humanity.

Col. Campbell, in his Letter to Sir Henry Clinton, dated Savannah the 19th of January, mentions the ſame Number of Dead found on the Field, but adds 11 wounded—a very uncommon Proportion indeed in the uſual Way of military Rencounters!—but the Colonel ſays, Sir James "with his "uſual Gallantry, terminated the Fate of the Day with brilliant Succeſs."

The Company of Marksmen that have voluntarily entered into the States Service for the preſent Campaign, in conſequence of Major Gardiner's Orders, found on Port-Royal Iſland each carry a Rifle and a ſmooth-bored Gun, and a Servant, which Servant loads one while they diſcharge the other.

The whole Force, in armed Men, that were in or near Savannah, to oppoſe Col. Campbell with his 3000 regular Troops, when he landed and took Poſſeſſion thereof, we are aſſured, did not exceed 600 Men, including thoſe of Colonel Huger and Col. Thompſon's Regiments, and of Col. Roberts's Artillery ſent from this State.

From Providence in Rhode Iſland, we learn, That Sir Henry Clinton, K.B. has made another unfortunate Expedition, of which the following particulars are given by a Maſter of a Veſſel, late a Priſoner at New-York, viz. "That the Enemy on the 24th of February, landed 3000 Men at Elizabeth Town in New Jerſey, General Clinton in Perſon having the Command, and Admiral Gambier the Direction of the Boats. That a large Detachment of them, under General Jones, immediately marched into the Country; but being vigorouſly attacked by a Body of Continental Troops, they were ſoon driven to their Boats, with the Loſs of Abundance of Slain, ſome braſs Field Pieces, and about 40 Head of Cattle they had taken. That the Retreat was ſo precipitate, as to oblige them to wade almoſt up to their Breaſts in Mud and Water, and under a continual Fire from their Aſſailants, till they reached their Boats. That themſelves acknowledged, they had been very roughly handled. And that Sir Henry's Object in this Expedition was ſuppoſed to be, either to deſtroy ſome continental Magazines, or to procure Flour and freſh Meat; which his Army in New-York and its Vicinity, were very much in want of.

The Britiſh Troops at Rhode-Iſland, ſaid to be about 6000, have alſo ſuffered from a Scantineſs of Bread and freſh Proviſion.

It is affirmed as a Fact, that the Plan of Operations for the Britiſh Troops in America this Year, is to kill, burn and deſtroy every Thing they are ſuffered to come nigh, along the Sea coaſts, and if poſſible to render defenceleſs every Port on the Continent.

As a Proof that Count D'Eſtaing was not blocked up in Martinique, as reported, a Veſſel with Diſpatches from the Court of Spain for Congreſs arrived at Boſton on the 5th Inſtant, which left Martinique the 16th of February, with 20 other American and 60 French Veſſels, under Convoy of 4 French Frigates.

The Face of our Affairs ſeems to be changing with the opening Spring, and to flatter us with propitious Events — The Militia now flock to the Camp in the interior Country, with Alacrity, and expreſs the moſt earneſt Deſire for an early and active Campaign: His Excellency our Governor arrived there laſt Thurſday, in perfect Health; he is accompanied by Major Pierce Butler, who notwithſtanding his indifferent State of Health, has taken upon him the laborious Duty of Adjutant General. The Army on the Frontiers, under the Command of Brigadier-General Williamſon, daily increaſes in Force. And the Continental Troops under the immediate Command of Major General Lincoln, have within theſe few Days paſt made a Movement, in Conſequence of the Enemy in Georgia, under Brig. General Prevoſt, again attempting to advance into the Country.—All our Armies are plentifully ſupplied, in good Health, and high Spirits. And it is to be hoped, that the abominable Practices of Monopolizers, Extortioners, and ſome of the modern Speculators, will ſoon meet with ſuch a Check as may moſt effectually baffle the inſidious Projects of our ſecret Enemies, and relieve the People who are moſt aggrieved thereby.

John Colcock, Eſq; having reſigned the Place of Secretary to the Hon. the Privy Council of this State, William Nisbett, Eſquire (Deputy Secretary) is appointed to that Office.

Sunday ſe'nnight died, the Hon. William Tucker, Eſq; of Saxe-Gotha Township, a Member of the Senate, for that Diſtrict.

Gentlemen who ſubſcribed prior to the advanced Price of this Gazette in November laſt, are requeſted to complete their Subſcriptions to the firſt of July next.
